Communications Hub

Communications Hub

Communications Hub makes it possible to centrally manage your shipment incidents in a multi-carrier environment.

The system categorizes incidents and links them to the corresponding shipment while maintaining exhaustive control and avoiding alternative communication channels for management.

Shortcomings may arise during shipments, hindering, modifying or breaching the agreed conditions. Usually, these types of incidents are managed by e-mail or phone, causing inefficiencies and isolating information in different channels.

Does not consider special cases

Dependence on third parties in a core process

Poor service impression

Slows down your operations

Our solution

Deliveria has developed a proprietary communications center that makes it possible to:

- Establish communication with all carriers from a single platform.
- Increase the productivity of the CS team by speeding up your shipments' incident solving.
- Reduce the learning curve of the Customer Service Department by providing it with the necessary tools.
- Centralize the communication and management of transportation-related incidents and maintain a link with the concerning shipment.

Customers with an incident rate above 5%

In case of a high rate of transportation incidents, Communications Hub reduces inefficiencies arising from this type of operation by optimizing the CS team's management capacity by avoiding multi-channel management.

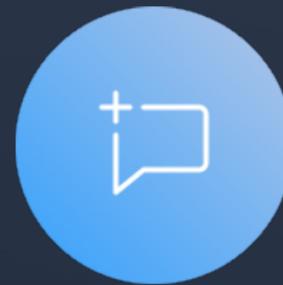

Customers with value-added services

The complexity of value-added services turns Communications Hub into the perfect ally for managing incidents related to this type of service.
